Seven of the Greatest Hiking Trails on Earth Are Right Here in West Virginia

The Mountain State is a hiker's paradise. No matter what your skill level is, West Virginia has the perfect trail for you. Our incredible state is covered in hundreds of trails which are ideal for getting out and experiencing the incredible beauty that we're surrounded by. Many of these trails offer up unparalleled views that you simply can't find anywhere else in the world. We're pretty lucky to be surrounded by so much beauty here in West Virginia, so what are you waiting for? Check out one of these incomparable hiking trails for your next outdoor adventure!

SENECA ROCKS

Seneca Rocks is a well maintained 3.5 mile trail in the Spruce Knob-Seneca Rocks National Recreation Area. This moderate hike offers an incredible view of one of the most scenic attractions in all of West Virginia. The trail leads you to an observation platform where you'll have one of the most breathtaking views of the rock faces!

ENDLESS WALL

The Endless Wall trail is easily one of the most popular hikes in West Virginia for its absolutely heart-stopping views and incredible scenery. Located near Lansing, this 2.7 mile loop trail follows the cliff line along the New River Gorge. There are various overlooks along the trail so you can stop, take a breath, and enjoy the surroundings. This family friendly trail is simply a must-do in West Virginia.

BIG SCHLOSS

Located in the George Washington Forest, this moderate 4.4 mile hike offers expansive views of beautiful, lush green foliage. You'll begin the hike at the trailhead located at Wolf Gap Campground. The first part of the hike is notably the most difficult, but the trail evens out after the first mile or so. Once you get past the first mile you'll arrive at the ridge line of Mill Mountain where you can soak up the incredible scenery!

COOPERS ROCK

Located near Morgantown, the Coopers Rock State Forest Loop is a 5-mile trail that is a true favorite among locals. This is a popular hiking spot for many, and it's easy to see why. The area is simply breathtaking. The trail even takes you through a unique rock garden, a secluded beach, and the ruins of an old furnace. The overlook at the end is simply incredible, so don't forget your camera!

KAYMOOR TRAIL

Kaymoor Trail is a short 1.6 mile trail. However, don't be fooled. This trail is recommended for experienced hikers who are up for a challenge. This trail is steep and leads you straight to a gorgeous waterfall. This beautiful hike even leads you to some incredible ruins from old historic mines. With its incredible views, this challenging hike is worth every single step.

BLACKWATER FALLS

The outstanding Blackwater Falls is a must-see waterfall in West Virginia. The Blackwater Falls trail is an easy hike that's less than one mile, making it perfect for hikers of all skill levels. The waterfall is clearly the main attraction. Seeing the five-stories tall falls plunging from the river is a downright awe-inspiring view.

HAWKS NEST

This 7-mile trail near Ansted is one of the most relaxing hikes in the Mountain State. This trail has it all. You'll be led to waterfalls, caves, historic mining artifacts, and an overlook with a view you'll never forget. Taking in the view, it looks like the green just goes on and on forever!
